The Poultry Industry.

It is a fact not generally known that of all farm products poultry stands ofth in value. It is estimated that the cash derived from the sale of poultry and eggs amounts to half a billion dol lars annually. Farmers, however, are only beginning to realize the profits that can be obtained from a well cared for flock of bens. It is doubtless true that many could more than double their present gain if they gave a little more attention to the feeding problem Guy H. Parker of Middletown Springs Vt., writes of the way he increased the egg production of his fowls: "My henhave doubled on the number of egg since I began to use your 'Page's Perfeeted Poultry Food."
